KELLER.

RESTORED TO HEALTH. THANKS TO PE-RU-NA.

Friends Were Alarmed—Advised Change of Climate.

Mrs. MILDRED KELLER, 115th street,
N. W., Washington, D. C., writes:

"I can safely recommend PeRuNa for research. I had it for years and it would respond to no kind of treatment, or if it did it was only temporary, and on the slightest provocation the trouble would come back."

"I was in such a state that my friends were alarmed about me, and I was advised to leave this climate. Then I tried PeRuNa, and to my great joy found it helped me from the first dose I took, and a few bottles cured me."

"It built up my constitution, I regained my appetite, and I feel that I am perfectly well and strong." —Mildred Keller.

CHAINED TO THE DEVIL.

By George R. Booth, of New York.

Yesterday afternoon a man stood before me who was once known as a reformed man. To all appearance he lived a sober life for about fourteen years and then went back to his wallowing.
He looked the picture of misery, and his first words to me were, "George, I want to die."

The history of that man is a strange one; for he was drawn out of a pit of misery, thanked God for being rescued and then deliberately jumped back into the terrible pit again, in spite of the best friends the man ever had.
He will not be saved.

Like all such characters he has moments of so-called repentance that lasts for only the time it takes to gain from his friends what he wants to gratify his desire for more of that which intoxicates, after which he becomes even worse than before.

The Devil has him in chains and makes sport of him. Like an actor, he is capable of dropping penitential tears when it suits his purpose, and like his master, the Devil, he can make more promises to be broken than he ever dreamed of performing.

Do not ask me to account for such strange behavior, for I cannot do it.

During all my life I have not come in contact with a man who has been
so badly punished by the Devil for consenting to become his slave. He has been starved, made homeless and
almost friendless by the Devil to reason of time. That drunkard's answer to you, if you should ask him why he pursues the pathway of sin, would be what he said to me yesterday, "How can I help it?"

Some people call him a fraud, same decide that he is one of those for-tunates who has once felt the pardoning power of Christ, but who, in an evil hour, turned his back on his Savior and is now reaping the consequences of his wrong doing.

To-day it is not my intention to take up the question as to why he is so wicked and miserable; but to hold him up before the young men who read Sabbath Readings as an awful example of what a man may become, if he permits himself to be chained by the Devil to an appetite that cries out,

Give me more misery; give me more hell-in-which to go to another world.

If I had my way I would put that man on a lonely island, provide him with the necessities of life, and keep him there for years. Doing so would prove a blessing to him and to those with whom he now comes in contact.

It requires the thunderings of Mount Sinai and the love that flows from Calvary to keep such a man as he is half-way decent.

After struggling for years to reform such a being as he is, the heart grows sick and the disposition to give him still more help almost dies out.

The contemplation of such a case of sin and wretchedness is not pleasant.

That man held my divided thoughts for over an hour last evening, and I went to sleep about as wise as ever.

He told me that I ought to kick him out of the establishment but I did not put his expressed wish into execution.

Of course, no one can help but pity such a wretch, for one look at him is enough to melt the hardest heart. He represents the Cause and Effect of permitting the sale of intoxicants as a beverage. Men have a desire to do that which they should not do; and after having their will-power broken down by the Devil often keep up doing wrong until they take their last step on earth.

There are, however, examples of those who have put their hands in the hands of Christ and never let go their hold upon Him. Such men and women, if they will only keep humble and prayerful, will no doubt succeed in resisting the Devil until the end.

Jesus is mighty to save and to help, but only those who are willing to have Him reign in them. Those who will not, must take the consequences, be they what they may.

Chained to the Devil! What a deplorable condition! With him as your master you will be jerked from happiness even if you should feel a latent desire to enjoy it. When a drunkard honestly gives his heart to Christ and feels the chains of sin dropping from him, he must feel like exclaiming, "Hallelujah, He done; I believe on the Son, I am saved by the blood of the crucified One."

Christ for the individual and law for the masses.

Young man don't taste not,
handle not intoxicants as a beverage.

Have a prohibition plater over your mouth and let it remain there until you need your mouth for other persons.

To live a drunkard's life is a life of suffering and shame. Harken to the promptings of the spirit, the pleadings of your mother and the entreaties of your wife and children.

There is no safety in moderate drinking, but there is safety in letting alone that which intoxicates. Drunkards are made up of those who were once moderate drinkers. The first glass will have more to do with your dying a drunkard than the last one.

PLAYING CHILDREN.

The Sight of Which Causes Suicide
Mother Is Immediately
Killed Herself.

Washington, D. C., January 19.—
"Mamma, look out of the window," is crying to a baby voice, Mrs. Archie Wiley, a divorcee, plaintive, living with relatives in this city, found her first opportunity to commit suicide after being closely watched all day.

As she looked out upon her three small children at play in the rear yard about 6 o'clock this afternoon, Mrs. Wiley shot herself in the head.

Her father, James G. Sharp, committed suicide by shooting himself a year ago in this city. Since this occurence Mrs. Wiley has been unhappy.

During all my life I have not come
in contact with a man who has been
so badly punished by the Devil for consenting to become his slave. He

has been starved, made homeless and
almost friendless by the Devil to rea-

THE REPUBLICAN

Entered in the post office at Morgantown, Butler County, Ky., as second class mail matter.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

H. B. MOREHEAD Editor and Manager

THURSDAY, FEB. 1, 1895.

FOR CONGRESS
IN 1896.
HON. WM. HENRY JONES,
OF BARRETT.

Senator Perkins declares that California who is a beautifier. The Senator evidently does not indulge in excess.

St. Louis is probably the only town in America where it is necessary to give trading stamps as a reward for attending Sunday School.

There must be some truth in the report that college athletics is conducive to health. Judging from the way football stars are falling in love.

Possibly the Mayor's ordinance was passed for the sole purpose of giving to Chicago the benefit of a week of Tom Johnson's oratory in the Spring.

Secretary Taft could make the administration even more popular by advertising the days on which, in plain sight of the public, he will sit down on scenes of the administration.

If Jacob Riis who nominates Mr. Roosevelt for a third term, finds a tomb in his mail, some morning, Vice President Fairbanks, Secretaries Root, Shaw and Taft should hold themselves in readiness to prove all this.

Quite likely the next thing heard from the Philippine tariff bill will be that it was sent going up a dark alley with the Senate on one side and the best sugar lobby on the other.

Now that a shortage of $18,000 has been discovered in the Kansas State Treasury, some unfeeling people will have the nerve to call the attention of the State to the old saying that reform should begin at home.

It is intimated that the United States may stand with Germany in the Morocco conference. Morocco seems to be the only power that has no one to stand with her.

Soon the powers of Algeciras will have invented a plan for the administration of Morocco and then it will be only necessary to get Bandit Balmoral to O. K. M.

Much as he admires Mr. Roosevelt, Jacob Riis is so broad minded that he admits Washington and Lincoln to membership in the same class with his friend the President.

The man from Washington, D. C., who was struck by 30,000 volts of electricity and survived, must have been a Senate lobbyist. The nerve of a lobbyist is equal to any shell.

Possibly Carter has been noticing what a bit the sultan makes with himself and immediate followers by "extorting ultimatums" raw until the very day of the arrival of the foreign fleet.

AN EDITOR'S APPEAL

To Brother Publishers in behalf of The Lost Child & Dr. Byers of Steeleville Ind.

If the editor of every paper in the central west will circulate this lines there is no question but what Dr. S. L. Byers of Steeleville Ind., will recover his little son who was stolen from his home one year ago last May. Dr. Byers has spent his entire resources in search of his child and unless the big hearted members of the press come to his assistance his son will grow up an outlaw and an outcast among the lowest people of the earth. It is a cause that should appeal to everyone and no father reading these lines can do so without a quaking of the heart and a sympathetic throb.

It is believed that if this article is reprinted in the newspapers it will form an endless chain that will uncover the lost boy's concealment and return him to his distracted parents. In doing this the profession of journalism will be fulfilling one of its highest destinies.

Publishers whose circulation touch the Wabash, Ohio and Mississippi valleys are especially requested to reproduce this story of the lost child as Dr. Byers believes the boy is now on some house boat waiting to take the road in the Spring. There is a reward of $500 awaiting any information that will lead to the boy's recovery. No questions will be asked and if the adductor blues will deliver the boy to his parents he would not be molested. The bereaved parents' hearts are broken with grief, and want only their child. If each journal will reprint these lines, they will travel to every exchange table in the United States and bring back to a wretched home a child who is now no doubt suffering with cold, uneasiness and wretchedness. Think of what your own feelings would be under similar circumstances! This appeal is indited originally by a publisher who saw Dr. Byers only once, has no personal interest in his quest other than the bond of sympathy that makes the world akin and is inspired from the belief that the lost boy can only be found through the united effort of the country press of which he is proud to be a member. His recovery will be a triumph in advertising and no editor whose heart is placed right will refuse this appeal. Remember, it may be your child next.

The following is a description of the lost boy:

DESCRIPTION.

Richard Byers, if he is 6 years old last July, is of light complexion, has gray eyes, left eye notably crooked, has a small V-shaped nick in the edge of the left ear has a sharp chin and a narrow, projecting forehead. He is rather small for his age and is unusually bright and intelligent, taking after the manner of a boy much older.

Dr. Byers has searched among the roving bands that frequent the United States and believes that his son can be found among traveling junk dealers, so called horse traders or movers. He does not think the boy was stolen by genuine gypsies. He thinks he was taken by a wandering band that used him for the purpose of beggarizing in the towns along the route.—The New Harmony (Ind.) Times. (Exchanges please copy.)

Hello! County Officials of Ohio

County, what's the matter with your roads, especially the Morgantown and

Beaver Dam road from Board's Ferry to Beaver Dam? It is the talk of the traveling public what a difference

there is between the Butler county and the Ohio county ends of this public highway. The Ohio end is in a deplorable condition and almost impassable. It is a shame. It works as an injury. Our mails are delayed and travel from Beaver Dam to Morgan town is hindered and often turned back on account of the wretched roads in Ohio county which are said to be all run down and show no signs of having been worked for several years.

Come brethren get out of that.

Everybody is kicking. If you don't know how to manage or how to work your roads we might let Judge

Holmes and some of his Commissioners come over a day or two and teach you a few things. At any rate fix up that road. Do you hear?

A New Enterprise.

T. T. Bone returned from Cincinnati Wednesday evening where he purchased a new Funeral Car of the latest style and fashion. Trigga has a piano of the car that will convince anyone of his good taste. He has embarked in the Undertakers business and has provided himself with all the necessary equipments including a very large Church Truck, and a complete line of Caskets, Coffins etc. and we dare say we will do his share of the business, at any rate he deserves much encouragement for this is something Morganians has long waited the need of. There is no reason why we should not send to Beaver Dam or Bowling Green for a hearse when our loved ones die.

MR. J. HENRY BURNETT

Resigns his position as manager of the Baptist Book Concern, that he has held and satisfactory filled for fifteen years. He has been elected ex-president and business manager with his brother, George J. Burnett, of Liberty College, Glasgow, Ky. This Brother Burnett believes, opens to him a position of greater usefulness.

Liberty College under the leadership of Brother George J. Burnett and his able faculty, has had phenomenal prosperity. Already during the past session one hundred and ninety six students have matriculated.

Brother J. Henry Burnett has been one of Louisville's most useful citizens. He is a man of strong character and noble convictions, with the courage to follow where his convictions of duty lead. We will miss him in Walnut Street church, not only as a faithful member, but for ten years he served the church as a model clerk.

He has made a fine record as superintendent of our Sunday school. For eight years he has served as clerk of Long Hill Association Board. He has also served as assistant clerk of the General Association of Kentucky for several years. He is a man of affairs, and will be heard from in his new field of labor. He carries with him our best wishes.

W. P. H.
Western Recorder, Louisville.

NOTICE

To whom it may concern: I have sold out my marble and undertakers business to my son, T. T. Bone, and this is to notify any one that I will not do any thing more than directly or indirectly as security or otherwise to come forward and get your pay and settle all accounts. And all who owe me either of my business, undertakers or marble, or stone or granite or otherwise, will please come by circuit court and settle with me for initial, with or without security, but what got it just the same. I have more burial accounts owing me by far than I am worth in that line and I believe $5.00 to one in the marble business, and I don't tell how much on the outside. I never owed but two men in the marble or undertakers business in my 15 years in that trade.

Now will Mr. Jolly Jester kindly inform the many readers of this good paper what was the mission of the 11th Ky. on Lookout Mountain at that time. Was it to gather red poppies and dig ginseng or was it to kill snakes and stinging lizards as there certainly could not have been anything else there at that time. And will Mr. Jolly Jester also tell what Clinch river was doing down there at the bottom of Lookout Mountain and where is Knoxville situated? Is it on French broad or Holston river, or is it situated on any river, and if so which side of the river north or south, or both. Also give a brief sketch of the retreat from Rockford and who killed the bear in the evening. Was it Bill Day or Joe Dibble or was it both.

Suspicion pointed in that direction. You do not remember the boys accused them of being buddies that night.

Now correct answers to the above questions will be highly appreciated by all and most especially by

ANIMAL MUD BATHERS

The Wild Boar, the Water Buffalo and the Elephant. Animals when wild constantly die a lingering death from injury to the skin, whether caused as usually happens in tropical countries, by wounds aggravated by insects or by cutaneous disease; hence the pains which they take in making their toilet and in the use and selection of remedies. Among birds the salt water species often seek fresh water to wash in different lands birds choose different earth in which to dust and also wash in water, and nearly every tropical animal, including the tiger, bathes either in water or mud. Perhaps the best known mud bathers are the wild boar, the water buffalo and the elephant. The latter has an immense advantage over all other animals in the use of its trunk for dressing wounds. It is at once a syringe, a powdering puff and a hand.

Water, mud and dust are the main "applications" used, though it sometimes covers a sun scorched back with grass or leaves. "Wounded elephants," writes Sir Samuel Baker, "have a marvellous power of recovery when in their wild state, although they have no gifts of surgical knowledge; their simple system being confined to plastering their wounds with mud or blowing dust upon the surface. Dust and mud comprise the entire pharmacopœia of the elephant, and this is applied upon the most trivial as well as upon the most serious occasions. I have seen them, when in a tank plaster up a bullet wound with mud taken from the bottom."—London Spectator.

CHINESE SERVANTS.

How They Pass Along Information About Their Employers.

In China it is a common thing for some people to bewail the lack of a cook, while their neighbors have numbers of them themselves directly the vacancy occurs. The reason of this is that each cook hands on to his successor or his employer's "character." This he does by means of a canary left standing in the kitchen.

If the place be considered a good one a sauceman will be left on the ground with the lid put on properly. If the lid be put on wrong way upmost it means that the place is a good one and that the cook has only left for a time and means to return as soon as he can. If the lid be put half in and half out or be warped it indicates that the place is a good one, but the master is stingy; if the lid is on crookedly and some rice be left in it shows that the servant is quite satisfied with everything concerning the owners of the house, but that he is obliged to leave owing to debts or other causes which inconvenience him. If the employer be in the habit of making his servants pay for lost or broken articles a chalk mark will be found on the bottom of the sauceman, which will not easily be rubbed off.

The Chinese "boy" makes his mark behind the bedroom or pantry door and the waterman sits on the bottom of tubs. These signs are said to have been originally adopted by the Chinese from the Tamils.

Why Some Men Are Superstitious. There are men who have a congo-tendance to distrust fate. With the better half of their minds they may be optimists, but there is a corner which is never free from the pain of fear, the fear of a sort of transcendental spite. Phillips said of the superstitions that they believed in the gods and believed them to be unfriendly. Some species of this pagan notion remains to this day even among those whose resolute conviction and reverent faith alike lead them to totally opposite conclusions. They do not believe they will have more misfortunes if they take a house which is numbered 13 than if they took one numbered 51, but they avoid the former in order to quiet their own painful imaginations.—London Spectator.

Mary's Voice.

Mary, Mary had a voice that extended from middle C to E in alto and was one of the most facile and flexible ever known. She delighted in the bold music of Massé, Granu, Bouin, Jommelli, Bergese, Porpora, Sacchini and others of that school, and with the most ease executed passages that are now consigned to sois instruments, such as the violin and flute. She held the stage from 1771 to 1802, with an occasional appearance after the latter date.

Charlotte Cushman.

One icy night Charlotte Cushman and Lawrence Barrett came out of the theater together. The steps were dangerously slippery, and it was with difficulty that they lost their feet at all. As they totteringly descended the great actress said to her companion, quite in her Lady Macbeth manner: "Take a good grip on my arm, Lawrence, and if I slip hold on like grim death. But if you slip in the name of heaven let go!"

Explained.

Sapleigh—Why do you dislike cigarettes? Miss Knox—Because they are dangerous. Sapleigh—But I have smoked them for ten years, and they haven't killed me yet. Miss Knox—Yes, I know, and that's one reason why I object to them.—Chicago News.

His Literary Treasures.

"Jones took me to his rooms to see a collection of rare and curious manuscripts."

"What were they?" "Decayed tailors' bills,"—Cleveland Leader.
